

North American Native Fishes Association

Annual Convention, Salt Fork State Park, Ohio, Sept 13 - 16, 2012

"Jumping in the water catching stuff, some of us never grow up"

The quote above comes from the title of Bob Muller's presentation about breeding natives and conservation in Michigan. Bob is just one of at least 16 speakers covering all aspects of North American native fish .

See a complete list of speakers and the speaking schedule on Page 2

Accommodations

To reserve your lodging call 1-800-AT-A-PARK (282-7275) . It is VERY IMPORTANT that you mention that you are with NANFA. We have to have 60 total room/night rentals (at least 20 rooms or cabins for 3 nights) to get the conference facilities at no charge. You also won't get the group rate if you don't mention you are with NANFA. Our block of rooms and cabins reserved for the conference will NO LONGER BE RESERVED AFTER AUGUST 12th 2012, so get your room or cabin early or you may have to stay elsewhere because this is a very busy time of year at this lodge.

Lodging options are as follows::

Lodge Rooms all $115 per night regardless of bed configuration

1 King Bed

2 Double Beds

2 Double Beds and set of bunk beds (2 more small beds)

Hillside Cabins are $165 a night. These are a short walk up the hill to the lodge where the talks and banquet will be held. They are also right next to the lake if you want to do some extra collecting (there are orangespotted sunfish in the lake) These have 2 bedrooms one with a single Queen sized bed and one with 2 sets of bunk beds (4 beds). There also is a living room with a couch and a full kitchen.

You can have up to 4 people in the lodge rooms and 6 in the cabins. That works out to be $28.75 or $27.50 per night respectively if you plan to share and fill a room or cabin.

There are rooms reserved for both Wednesday evening the 12th and Sunday evening the 16th for those who want to be there the night before or stay over after that last collecting trip.

There is also camping available in another part of the park, for rates and availability go to the lodge website:
